Karolayna is a research assistant to Dr. Mary Hampton at the University of Regina. Karolayna is just about to graduate in June 2009 with a BA (Hons.) in Psychology and a BAJS (Bachelor of Arts in Justice Studies). She hopes to gain acceptance into law school, forensic psychology or criminology program in 2010. Karolayna's areas of interest include family violence and family law, corrections, policing, and women's and cultural issues. She recently completed her qualitative thesis on the subject of women in policing. Karolayna has been working on the Canadian observatory only a short time (since January 2009), but has already found the work to be very interesting.
